(Federation dues through regular Party channels to start with July 1st.)†

†- While every point and vote of this Central Executive Committee plenum thus far tipped to the perspective of the old CPA, the move to collection of “Federation dues through regular Party channels” was a marked victory for the organizational model of the former United Communist Party. The old CPA allowed its six language Federations to collect dues and to remit a portion (after taking their own percentage) to the center; the UCP and the unified CPA collected dues in full via the District Organizers of the party, who paid the full amount to the center, which in turn remitted a percentage back to the Federations and other peripheral party organizations. Instead of holding the power of the purse-strings, as they did in the old CPA, the various language Federations were reduced to supplicants for funds from the center.

Motion: To adjourn, next meeting to be held [Tuesday] June 7, 3 pm.

Motion carried.

“C. Dow” [Charles Dirba],
Executive Secretary.
Rules of Procedure for the CEC of the CP of A.

A document in the Comintern Archive, f. 515, op. 1, d. 51, ll. 9-11.

1. The CEC shall meet at least twice a month.
2. The Executive Secretary shall call the regular meetings of the CEC.
3. Special meetings shall be called by the Executive Secretary whenever circumstances require, or upon the demand of two members of the CEC. Special meetings shall act the same as regular meetings.
4a. Seven members of the CEC shall constitute a quorum.
4b. (Withdrawn.)
4c. On all questions of procedure a majority of those voting shall decide. On other questions decision shall be by majority of those voting, except in case any member is absent, when, upon the demand for a roll call vote, the decision does not take effect until all members of the CEC have recorded their vote, unless there are more than 5 votes for or against a motion.
5. The Executive Secretary shall keep a record of those members coming more than 15 minutes late, or absenting themselves without giving valid reasons. The CEC will discipline those members who are repeatedly late, and who are absent without valid reasons.
6. It shall be considered breach of Party discipline for any member, or any other comrades present at the meeting of the CEC: (1) to leave the meeting before adjournment without a special permission; (2) to divulge any decisions of the CEC not shown on the official extracts sent out to membership, or any proceedings, information, or debated not having a direct bearing upon the decisions and matters so given out by the CEC.
7. The Executive Secretary shall prepare an order of business for every meeting of the CEC, subject to approval and changes by the CEC. The CEC may take up any question at any time upon a simple motion (without a special motion for the suspension of rules).
8. At each regular meeting the Executive Secretary shall give a financial statement, and read excerpts from the correspondence with Districts, Federations, etc., having general interest, or requiring action by the CEC.
9. All committees, special as well as standing committees, must prepare and give reports at each regular meeting of the CEC.
10. As soon as a committee is elected, it shall elect its secretary, who shall arrange meetings of the committee and prepare and give the reports of the CEC.
11. No discussion shall be allowed without a motion, except by a majority vote.
12. Discussion shall be limited to ten minutes for each speaker the first time, and five minutes for each subsequent time. This may be extended by unanimous consent, or upon a majority vote when an objection is raised.
13. The chairman shall keep a list of speakers, giving the floor to those wishing to speak for the first time on a question before anyone is given the floor for the second time.
14. Points of order and privileged motions may be made, points of information asked, and the previous question may be called for by any member without regard to the list of speakers.
15. The rights of the chairman to participate in discussion and to vote on all questions shall be the same as of all the other members of the CEC.
16. Tie vote means a motion lost, or the chair sustained. Expulsion or suspension of a member from the CEC shall require 7 votes; all other questions are decided by majority vote.
17. Roll call vote shall be taken upon the demand of any member of the CEC.
18. There may be an amendment, second amendment, or a substitute to each main motion.

†- This subclause originally was to read: “4b. The CEC should designate at once one alternate from each side to attend upon notice the meetings of the CEC as substitutes for any regular member unable to be present. Any member of the CEC who for a valid reason cannot attend a meeting of the CEC shall promptly give notice of this to the Executive Secretary, so that the alternate may be called to the meeting to serve in his place.”
substitute may be moved after either amendment; it cannot be amended, and if carried, it disposed of the motion and amendments. Amendments may be made in full, and then, if carried, dispose of the motion; or they may be made to modify the motion, and then, if the amendment is carried, the motion is put as amended.

19. Motions to divide a question; to postpone indefinitely; and to rescind former action, open up the whole question to debate.

20. Motion to refer to a committee, and motion to postpone to a fixed time are debatable only as to the advisability of the commitment or postponement. Motion to instruct the committee opens debate on the whole question.

21. The following motions on procedure shall not be debatable except by the mover, and one against; not over three minutes each: To lay on the table; To suspend the rules; To take up a question out of its order; To take from the table; To adjourn or to take a recess. They cannot be amended.

22. The following motions shall not be debatable: For the previous question; To limit or close debate; To extend limits of debate.

23. The following motions may be made while another has the floor: Objection to consideration (suppresses the question); For the orders of the day; Point of order, and appeal from the decision of the chair on it. They are not debatable, except that on appeal from the decision of the chair, both the appellant and the chair shall have five minutes each to state their sides.

24. The Executive Secretary shall act as the chairman when an appeal is taken, or when the chairman takes the floor.

25. (Withdrawn.)†

26. Motions contrary to or making inoperative a decision or a part of a decision passed at a previous meeting of the CEC are not in order unless first a motion to rescind the previous action is carried. Motion to rescind opens the whole question to debate. This does not apply to motions regarding interpretation or application of previous decisions.

27. After a motion has been taken up by the meeting, the maker cannot modify or withdraw it, except by general consent.

28. Motions to adjourn, to lay on the table, or to take from the table cannot be renewed unless some other motion has intervened.

29. The Secretary shall use his discretion regarding the publication of motions for the membership, unless he receives specific instructions from the Committee.‡

30. The names of the movers of motions and amendments shall be recorded in the minutes.

†- This clause originally was to read: “25. Motion to reconsider shall be entertained upon being supported by two members, besides the mover, and it opens debate upon the whole question, if it was debatable. Only one reconsideration of a question is permitted.”

‡- This clause originally was to read: “29. The CEC shall determine after each motion whether it shall be sent out to the membership, or not. Only three copies of the full minutes shall be kept by the Executive Secretary in three different safe places of Party archives; the members of the CEC being permitted to make notes in code of the confidential decisions, if they so desire.”
